So much to do... so close by!

Vermont State Parks are designed for the casual visitor as well as the serious outdoors enthusiast. A park offers the perfect spot for a wedding, birthday or company picnic, but is also the ideal site for a family vacation, a quiet afternoon spent fishing with a friend, or a trail run through the woods.

Visitors of all ages come from all corners of the country and even the globe, but we also see lots of neighbors from across town. Vermont's State Parks are as varied as its people and there's a park just down the road from wherever you are.

Hike beside a pond or up a mountain trail. Picnic on the beach or with new friends at a campsite. Take to the water in a canoe or kayak—or just dive in.

Camp in an RV, at a campground or on a remote island. Relax and read a book, or just breathe. The choices are endless, and yours to make.

Whether you want an adventure or just a place to relax, Vermont State Parks provide a refuge from life's hectic pace. Far from work and schedules, individuals, couples, families and friends find time just for themselves.

Parks—and visitors—have helped keep thousands of Vermont acres naturally beautiful and open for exploration since 1924. For a day or a week, slow down, rejuvenate, connect with the land and find out again what's most important to you.

Reconnect with your life.
